Subscribe2 may be set up as a page or as a sidebar widget.

This is how a page looks to the site visitor:

The screenshot displays the website's navigation menu with links for Home, About Me, Specialties, Services, Contact Me, Appointments, and Subscribe Here. The main header features the site's logo, 'The iAssistant', and a graphic of a world map with silhouettes of business professionals. Below the header, there are two sub-headers: 'The AssistU Experience' and 'The WordPress Journey'. The 'Subscribe Here' section includes instructions for new subscribers, a note about managing subscriptions after logging in, and an option to unsubscribe. A form for entering an email address is provided, along with 'Subscribe' and 'Unsubscribe' buttons. A 'Share and Enjoy' section contains social media icons for Facebook, Twitter, LinkedIn, YouTube, and others. At the bottom, a green banner features an eye icon and the text: 'And could focus on the things ONLY YOU can do?'.

This is how a sidebar widget looks:

The screenshot shows a website sidebar with a dark purple header containing navigation links: Home, About Me, Specialties, Services, Contact Me, Appointments, and Subscribe2 Guide. Below the header is a large banner with the text "The iAssistant" and an image of a world map with silhouettes of people. The sidebar content includes a section titled "The AssistU Experience" and "The WordPress Journey". A blog post titled "Educate Your Customers" by Deborah is featured, with a "LEARN MORE ABOUT..." link. To the right of the blog post is a "BLOG POST EMAILS" form with a red border, containing the text "Receive Regular Updates! Your email: Enter email address...", "Subscribe" and "Unsubscribe" buttons, and the text "Never Miss A Blog Post!".

Once the site visitor enters the email address, a message directs him to the confirmation email. He clicks on the link, and the subscription is activated. (There's even a way to send reminder emails to anyone who has not activated the subscription.)
